SEARCH FOR INFORMATION ON POTENTIAL HEALTH HAZARDS

With the hazardous waste lingering problems at places like Camp Lejeune, many other sites are under scrutiny.

A friend of VUFT and a SOUND OFF reader, Janet Phelan, has asked us to query our readership about Sierra Army Depot., specifically her question was, "What in the world are they storing in those large vats of liquid?"

If any of you have the knowledge to answer her question, please respond directly to her at writejanet@live.com

Please identify if your knowledge is first-hand or derived from other sources, and how recent your information is.

Thanks in advance for your help.
