THE VUFT WEBSITE IS REPAIRED

Back in February several parts of the VUFT website broke.

The website had been constructed in 2005 by one of our members using an early version of Front Page. It had become convoluted over the years as it was maintained mostly by crude updates by yet another amateur (me).

We originally tried to hire a website designer/builder but could get no takers. Our ISP offered a relatively inexpensive service to redesign the website and to provide us with simple tools to maintain it and get it organized. We will try to keep it that way.

The Website is still at www.vuft.org and is much cleaner and more modern.

Some of the old links have been removed temporarily and will be reestablished over the next several weeks.

Please take a look at it. It is quite good looking. It offers no more capabilities or information that the old site, but it is nicer.

One thing that was really cleaned up is the donation page.

Try it—PLEASE! [Ed.]
